Cofundador y director - Fundación Tejer Ideas

Cofundador y miembro líder - Colectivo Nacional de Educación STEM (CONASTEM)

Dear Oscar:

After a careful review of your engagement by the SLECoP Leadership, we certify your participation to join the STEM Learning Ecosystems Community of Practice (SLECoP). We now number 110+ STEM Learning Ecosystems throughout the United States, Mexico, Canada, Israel, Iceland and Kenya .

We are thrilled to welcome you into this vibrant community of practice and believe that you will make valuable contributions, in addition to benefiting greatly from the contributions of your international peers.

As you know, the STEM Learning Ecosystems Community of Practice is a global initiative of innovators who understand that thriving communities are built through collaboration and a willingness to reimagine education.

Collaboration is at the center of everything we do, as we work with K-12; post-secondary institutions; nonprofits; business/industry; government; communities and of course families to build comprehensive cradle – career pathways for thriving communities.

You have been invited to join this global initiative and Community of Practice because your community, with your leadership, has demonstrated a deep commitment for STEM learning across multiple platforms and a progressive respect for all community partners with shared interests.

Again, thank you for your commitment to this systemic transformation endeavor. Your engagement, coupled with deep peer-to-peer connections, will ensure that all students can optimize their STEM learning experiences, in- and out-of-school, 24 hours a day / 7 days a week, in a manner that provides thoughtful learning progressions across all platforms.

Sincerely,
